HOUSTON – Celebrating its 25th Anniversary, the National Museum of Funeral History welcomes supporters to its 23rd Annual NMFH Charity Golf Classic on Monday, May 22, 2017 at the Kingwood Country Club, in Kingwood, Texas. The Charity Golf Classic is a fun-filled fundraiser created to support the Museum and its mission, enlighten visitors about one of man's oldest cultural rituals and celebrate the rich history of funeral service. The tournament brings together business executives and funeral industry professionals from across the country, all of whom take to the greens to raise funds for the Museum and its programs.

This year's tournament kicks off with breakfast followed by the Charity Golf Classic's shotgun start, after which players compete in a five-person golf scramble. On-course contests with tee-prizes and professional long drive fundraising entertainment are located throughout the course. Following the 18 holes, players retreat to the clubhouse for a silent auction, dinner, and awards ceremony.
